

*Deb Kelley
President | Designer*

As the founder of the WriteOne Creative Services, I completely understand the art of juggling. Already balancing wifedom, motherhood, and full-time career, I made time in 2005 to fulfill a dream by transforming my un-named freelance advertising copy-writing service that was on and off for twenty years into the WriteOne Creative Services.

The WriteOne Creative Services is a full-service home-based design and advertising company. I provide the same great work of an agency, without the overhead expense.

With a layoff from my “day” job in June 2008, I decided to turn this freelance part-time love into a full-time passion.

Advertising of my company has been unnecessary. Clients hear about me from other customers and contact me based strictly from word of mouth recommendations.

Nominated for 2007 Tampa Bay Business Journal’s Business Executive of the Year, I am recognized for exceeding customer expectations, being able to take a concept and transform it into reality, both quickly and affordably. As a small business owner myself, I understand the budget restraints of other small businesses and work to make your vision happen in a creative and most cost-effective manner.

From concept to design implementation, my experience embraces all aspects of design with originality and creativity. I have no problem with “thinking outside of the box” and welcome the challenge of transforming your ideas into vision.

The success of my company, the WriteOne Creative Services is an example of where determination, dedication and an entrepreneurial spirit can lead.

Services Offered

I specialize in the design and print of custom advertisements, announcements, brochures, business cards, cd/dvd covers and inserts, company templates, door hangers, envelopes, flyers, invitations, letterhead, logos, menus, party invites, postcards, posters, presentations, presentation folders, press kits, press releases, programs, promotional items, sell sheets, signage, speaker one sheets, thank you cards, and tradeshow graphics. I also offer digital photography, video scrapbooks, original non-cookie cutter websites, advertorials and creative copy-writing, performer bios, screen-printed or embroidered tee shirts, hats, polo shirts, and much much more!

I guarantee if it falls into the creative category – I can take care of it for you.

Customer Testimonials

“Within a matter of days, if not hours, you had us up and running online enabling our non-profit organization to raise funds for our endeavour. The website for the custom car/bike show is incredible. You do great work!”

*~ Ret. Sgt. Steve Crosby
FVAA*

“Deb Kelley is exceptionally creative and always produces great ideas and finished products. We couldn’t be more pleased with her work and recommend her to anyone who wants to improve their advertising or website.”

*~ Andrew P. Hicks, Ph.D.
